

Cell phone use on airplanes, except in cases of dire emergency e.g. 9/11, serves no useful purpose. Such use, if any, should be limited as it is currently, to those moments after the plane has landed.